Dean's Letter – Sunday 04th December 2016:

Dear Cathedral family,

This coming Saturday, 10th December, is the ordination of a number of men and women to the diaconate. The service will be at St Bernard Mizeki Church, Scenery Park, and East London. Among those being ordained to the diaconate is our own Lunga Dongwana. He will be attending the ordination retreat this week, as part of his final preparations. Lunga has been on this journey for a number of years, studying, attending Fellowship of Vocation meetings, and doing training. We thank God for him, and we pray for him, Yoliswa, and their children, as he takes this next big step. Let's support him with our prayers, and if possible our presence at the ordination. Today is the 2nd Sunday in Advent. We continue to prepare ourselves not only for Christmas and the celebration of the birth of Christ, but also for the coming of Christ at the end of time, and into our daily lives. Each liturgical season has its own particular focus or emphasis – a bit like a wonderful trifle pudding, with its variety of colours and layers! The different seasons enable us to appreciate the different aspects and beliefs of the Christian faith. In our Gospel reading today, John the Baptist ushers in the new age: "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand!" (Matt 3:2). Change your lives! Wake up! See what God is doing amongst you! Get rid of apathy and indifference! Now is the time. But there are no quick fixes or easy answers. Belief in God does not necessarily mean prosperity, or success, or healing – contrary to what is sometimes spread in certain quarters, such as the so-called "Prophet of Doom"! In a 2015 address, the Revd Canon Barney Pityana put it like this (a great deal more eloquently than I can):

"For over two thousand years Christians have lived with the balance of what is promised and the reality of its lack of realization in their own lives. Christians have seen generations pass unrequited even though they lived faithful lives. Christians have lived with the evidence of evil in triumph over truth and justice, at least for a time; and many have experienced a very deep sense of the absence of God. The early church from Luke-Acts, the Pauline writings, Peter, John and James and all the ways to Revelation have had to grapple with the fact of the human condition with unfulfilled promises. The early church did not make empty promises, and did not take ownership of the promises Christ made in the gospels. All that it did was to be pastorally and spiritually conscious and affirming without simplifying the complex, to live with the uncertainty and to focus in the penultimate with a life lived to the full and in promoting goodness and truth at all times, and to seek the common good."

We are living in desperate times, many of us. Despair and fear stalk us at every corner. Things are immensely uncertain, fragile; there is no easy answer to the problems we face. Advent helps us to "live with the uncertainty" but also to hold onto hope: "the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." (Isaiah 11:9). This is God's world. Let's live in that deep assurance.

My love to you all
